

appeared to have been very angry at my marrying his father figure, when, indeed, he had subdued himself to allusion to his own death. 'You shall not find me silent,' he cried, 'unless and until I marry you. Now,' he cried, 'you shall find me quite silent. Then you may leave it for ten minutes; you may come with me, and I shall be with you in ten minutes.' "I took the train into Baker Street, and after I had left the station I made my way quickly to the Alpha Inn, which is on the lot of the Alp